A House In The Sunflowers: An English Family's Search For Their Dream House In France

Ruth Silvestre

A House in the Sunflowers: An English Family's Search for Their Dream House in France tells of their affair with the house, from the search and initial attempts to buy it in the Lot-et-Garonne area of France. The author and her husband decided to try and find their dream house in the Lot-et-Garonne area of France. This book records their search for a house, buying it.