Fundamentals of Finance and Accounting for Non-Financial Managers

In Finance and Accounting for Non-financial Managers, you’ll learn how to read financial statements, how to use proven accounting methodologies to forecast financial results, and how to improve decision-making. This course is designed for managers with no experience in accounting or financial management, to help you become familiar with the basics of accounting and financial terminology and financial analysis techniques.

Finance and Accounting for Non-Financial Managers is an intensive, two-day course that transforms financial and accounting language and concepts into practical tools and techniques. It covers the fundamentals of finance and accounting, including financial statements, budgeting, and decision-making.

This course is designed to help managers understand the financial data and make informed decisions. You will learn how to read financial statements, understand the trade-offs, and make better financial decisions. It’s a topic you must understand, especially during challenging economic times when financial acumen is expected at every level of the organization.

Eliot H Sherman
This finance course will teach you how to get a firm grasp of the numbers side of your job, cultivate proactive working relationships with finance professionals. Finance and Accounting for Non-financial Managers Know what your finance manager presents to you. This course empowers non-financial managers with the essentials of finance and accounting. Held in