Antoni Tàpies

Antoni Tàpies was a largely self-taught Spanish abstract painter whose seductive tactile surfaces, often scratched with mysterious graffiti-like marks, were a major influence on the development of modern and contemporary art. His work often reflected his personal experiences and philosophical beliefs.

Tàpies: From Within is a major historical survey of Barcelona-born artist Antoni Tàpies, whose life and work spanned six decades. The exhibition features a selection of more than 50 large-scale paintings and sculptures, representing diverse moments in his career.

Antoni Tàpies was born on December 13, 1923, in Barcelona. His adolescence was disrupted by the Spanish Civil War and a serious illness that lasted two years. From Within is organized by the Pérez Art Museum Miami (PAMM) and the Fundació Antoni Tàpies, and is on view in the Bechtler Museum of Modern Art second-floor gallery December 14, 2012 through March 18, 2013.

Pérez Art Museum Miami is located in a beautifully restored 17th century hamlet with spectacular views of the city. The museum presents a diverse range of contemporary art and offers a unique space for cultural events and education programs.

Antoni Tàpies was one of the leading European artists of his generation and his work continues to inspire new generations of artists. His legacy is celebrated through exhibitions, collections, and educational programs around the world.
